Pigeon River Country: Real Wilderness - Real Beauty-Real Fun...

Alone In The Wilderness

By Kendal Smith
Holy/Flint Chapter

Circumstance left me with a weeks vacation to myself. I had intended to do some trail riding anyway, so spent the weekdays discovering new paths (new for me). I had seen the High Country Pathway in my Trail Atlas of Michigan. HCP is a 70+ mile loop located in the Mackinaw State Forest between Gaylord and Onaway. Seeking a single day ride I settled on the Shingle Mill Pathway in the southwest section of the HCP.

On a hot July morning I started my venture from State Forest campground on the Pigeon River. The Atlas showed three loop choices of 6, 10, or 11 miles. I picked the longest, finally "saddling up" about noon, with a full Camelbak.

Shingle Mill began by following Pigeon River through low banks, meadows, and pine forests. After four miles, appeared the State Forest Headquarters, an interesting log building, with historic displays, water and restrooms. The receptionist was a little surprised when I reported my solo ride for emergency purposes.

The trail continued a few more miles into normal "up-north" single track. A river crossing with an apparently popular campground was the last I saw of civilization or humans for several hours. I truly felt I was striking out on my own into the unknown, save for a marked path. Climbing through a cedar forest came my big surprise of the day. Asleep directly on the trail was a young cow ELK! The beast simply looked, without rising, as I pondered what do! As I walked my bike around it (at a respectable distance) the cow eventually stood to grab some breakfast. She never did move from the place I found her.

There were many sights to see and ride through, including a major descent with a head-high dead-fall near the bottom! I came upon a group of teenagers on a back packing trip at the shore of a small lake. They were impressed with my ride and swag (especially the Camelbak). A young man from England and I chatted about my other passion, soccer. The last stretch of the loop was a new boardwalk through a cedar marsh. Excellent!

Just this small loop of the High Country Pathway offered a large variety of terrain, wildlife, and adventure. The whole loop looks to be a great choice for mountain bikers looking for a back-packing trip. Some advice: bring a good insect repellent. Though the trail is well-marked, only the most experienced forester should go without a map and compass. It could be very easy to make a wrong turn and be miles from nowhere, alone in the wilderness.

Quite World Recreation Makes A Little Noise!

While the trade show controversy raged on last year, two long time sales reps decided to take a hands on approach to promoting bicycling in their territory. Dave Gibson and Bruce Clevenger have been independent reps in the Great Lakes region for 18 years. In this time, they saw little if any bicycle industry money being spent on bicycle promotion. As cyclists, they had ridden many of the mountain bike trails in the state and knew that without some type of funding, several were in danger of closing down. "I read with interest the plan that BIO had, but thought it would be many years before any funding came into Michigan that would directly help our trails," said Clevenger. "So I called up several of the lines we rep and asked if they would put two per cent of sales aside and help us repair Michigan's most heavily used trail, the Potowatomi.

Lone Peak, Velocity and Echo Computers jumped at the chance to participate. The people who run these small companies are bike riders, too, and have a real feel for the sport." Gibson added, "Two percent may not sound like much, but it added up. As competitive as things are, for some of these companies it is a substantial part of their margin. This was a pilot year for us. Next year we hope to get more of our lines to participate and generate more funding."

Gibson and Clevenger went to their accounts and asked if they would like to become a "trail buddy" by selling Velocity, Lone Peak and Echo products. Twenty six dealers participated. "One reason this worked," said Gibson, "Was because the products were good quality and did not have a bike company attached so that all dealers could have access to them. We tried to select things that consumers buy day in and day out." The reps purchased two ads in Michigan Cyclist Magazine encouraging consumers to ask for "trail buddy products" at their favorite bike shop.

John Black from Velocity said, "This was a real win-win project. We figured anything Bruce and Dave were involved with was worth being in, too. We got our product into several new accounts that now are good customers and we were able to directly contribute to promoting our industry." Gibson and Clevenger printed up small stickers that they put on the packs, computers and cages letting the consumer know that part of the proceeds were going to Michigan trailways. "In some cases, that actually made a difference in which product a customer bought," said said one Southeast Michigan bike dealer. "I liked the fact that dealers could play a role in this without having to keep track of paper work or having the customer fill out a form since we are busy enough as it is."

With the first year's program completed, Gibson and Clevenger will be presenting the Michigan Mountain Biking Association (MMBA) with a check for nearly $1,000. Tom Nell, an officer of the MMBA, said that the money will go directly to trail maintenance next spring on the Potowatomi. "I think the reps, dealers and consumers are onto a good thing," he mused. "This could really become something sizable and beneficial to everyone connected with cycling. Especially those that use the trails."

Dr. T.K. Lawless Trail

(Article of note from NIMBA)

If you don't know already from personal experience, the Lawless Trail is occasionally closed. You may have gone up there expecting to have a good ride and instead, come home ride-less because the trail wasn't open.

The main reason for the trail being closed is because of trail conditions. Simply put, they don't want riders on the trail when it is too wet. The park manager's judgment will govern when the trail will be open or closed, so you might save yourself a trip by calling ahead. Their number is 616 476-2730. Call it and listen to the recording.

The trail had been closed in November because of deer hunting season and they are naturally concerned for the safety of riders. As of December 1st, the trail will be open as conditions allow. Even if you disagree with the park about closing the trail, please respect their intentions. They want to preserve the trail. And if you run into one of the park managers, tell 'em thanks for making the land available for a great trail.

The MMBA Gets Yet Another Award & Recognition In the Midwest Region...

Two major Chicago biking organization received an International Mountain Bicycling Association (IMBA) Model Program Award at the association's board meetings last week in Chicago. Recreation for Individuals Dedicated to the Environment or RIDE and Trail users Rights Foundation, or TURF were honored for volunteer trail work in Illinois and Wisconsin parks and forest preserves particularly for forcing trail access issues into the political arena. Only three other groups in the nation were similarly honored.

RIDE announced its own slate of awards, including Cook County Commissioner Herb Schumann, point man on forest preserve trail and conservation issues. Laurel Ross of the Nature Conservancy; Equestrian Jeanette Falk of the Illinois Trail Riders Association; Tony Ponziano of Cook County Forest Preserve District; Tim Galvin and David Hammor of Wisconsin's Kettle Moraine State Park; Keith Mistrik of Chicago Area Bicycle Dealers Association; Cliff Johnson of Indiana Bicycle Coalition; John Siwinski of TURF; Andy Swartz of Wisconsin Off-Road Bicycling Association; Gary Crandall of Chequamegon Area Mountain Bike Association and Dwain Abramowski of the Michigan Mountain Biking Association.

Representative, Dwain Abramowski, was present to receive the award from RIDE on behalf of the Michigan Mountain Biking Association volunteers in conjunction with attendance at the CABDA (Chicago Area Bicycle Dealers Association), where the needs of the MMBA were shared with bike dealers and bike industry from around the country.

IMBA-MMBA Will Meet In Arizona

(portions of this story are reprinted from the November issue of IMBA Trail News)

One hundred North American leaders in trail cycling advocacy and management will gather in the Arizona desert, January 11-14, 1996, at the IMBA Trail Cycling Summit. This unprecedented event will bring together 60 IMBA activists and close to 40 representatives of land management agencies, other trail-user groups, environmental organizations, and cycling and outdoor recreation publication representatives.

The event is being held at Biosphere II, the famous environmental research facility located 35 miles northeast of Tucson, in the desert near Oracle. Conference attendees will stay at the Inn at the Biosphere and have time to ride the nearby Arizona Trails, as well as paths in the Santa Catalina Mountains.

The conference schedule is still being finalized, but the theme is empowerment. The goal is to share the best strategies of mountain biker education, management, and trail construction and maintenance, so that mountain bike advocates can become more effective in promoting off-road cycling in their home regions. Among the topics on the preliminary agenda are:

- Working with land managing agendas
- Building successful mountain bike advocacy organizations
- Setting IMBA's agenda & strengthening its network
- Reducing trail-user conflicts
- Working with the media

IMBA is very lucky to have its Arizona representative, Steve Anderson, serving as conference coordinator. Anderson has been working with IMBA's staff and board to shape a four-day agenda that is varied, inspirational, and fun. IMBA is currently working to arrange conference sponsorship toward the goal of reducing the cost of participation. Our goal is to defray the cost of food and lodging for all participants and provide the lowest possible airfares. "It's too bad we have to limit participation to about 100," said IMBA Executive Director, Tim Blumenthal, "because all mountain bike advocates would benefit from the information that will be shared at this conference. But, this is the number that we can handle, logistically and financially. We'll have information available for all our members following the event. Also, we plan to host additional conferences." StopWatch Healing...

If you've twisted an ankle or wrenched a knee, you'd better grab some ice and a stopwatch. Doctors have concluded that applying ice to an injury for exactly 25 minutes is the optimum time for quickest healing, according to research done at the University of Chicago's Orthopedic Surgery and Rehabilitation Medicine Center.

The study concluded that healing began after five minutes and reached its peak at 25 minutes. Icing for longer than 30 minutes can cause damage to the tissue and nerves. The best way to apply ice to an injured joint fill a gallon-sized bag with crushed ice, wrap it around the entire joint and strap it tightly in place with an elastic bandage. American Health

A Special Thank You!

This organization was hit hard financially by the increasing needs of attention to land access, trail development and statewide organizational issues. As was stated in the last BRB some "Up-date" mailings had to be shortened or dropped in order to make the 95 budget. However, contact with land managers was not compromised and in many cases increased.

Through the cooperation of promoters, bike shops, industry and members, the MMBA has remained visible in the decision-making processes of those who oversee our land. In this issue of the BRB, you'll note that virtually each page has a sponsor. This is because though we've kept our trail-related activity at the highest level ever, the MMBA had to find a different means to put out the latest issue of the BRB - hence, the page sponsors. As you read this issue of the BRB you'll note that these page sponsors have gone above and beyond the call of duty to be a member of the MMBA, and have put yet another level of support behind you, the rider - by supporting the BRB. The BRB is the vehical of MMBA, members, land managers and the mountain biking industry to share what's going on out on the trail. It has always been the intent of the BRB to share what's happening, by leaving its editorial doors open to you - MMBA members, land managers and/or industry. Without the support of these sponsors this open forum would not happen.

Please remember that the words, thoughts and opinions expressed in the BRB are not necessary those of the sponsors. On the other hand, you have a responsibility to make sure that if you have something to say about mountain biking, land access and/or mountain biking related topics send it in to the BRB. Your thoughts and ideas on trail development, maintenance and mountain biking fun is what the BRB is about. Once again thank you to all our member shops, promoters and/or bicycle industry members listed on the last two pages. Also, thank you to the 10% Club shops and all those who sponsored a page in this issue of the BRB. Timely land access information and your thoughts and ideas can only be shared with others because the page sponsors went the extra mile down the trail of responsibility for mountain biking.

A REMINDER TO ALL MMBA MEMBERS: ALL THE SHOPS/MANUFACTURERS ON THIS PAGE ARE SPECIAL. THEY SUPPORT YOUR EFFORTS ON THE TRAIL AND IN THE MMBA POINTS SERIES. THEY DESERVE YOUR PATRONAGE!!!!!!

Senator Carl Levin
477 Michigan Ave. Room 1860
Detroit MI 48226

Dear Senator Levin,

My husband and I are senior citizens who are NOT writing you about Social Security or Medicare. Although those are important benefits to us, our concern is the North Country Trail and more generally that trails be open to mountain biking.

Several years ago we began mountain biking on local trails in West Michigan and have extended our rides to Northern Michigan trails. We see lots of responsible young folks riding, bikers who are considerate and responsible towards hikers. We have heard that there are occasional "wild" kids on trails but we haven't encountered them. Our point is: Please keep the North Country Trail open to mountain bikes and encourage the National Park Service to follow the example of the U.S. Forest Service in opening nature trails to biking. Mountain biking is the fastest growing sport in America and its enthusiasts deserve land access. We do not deny teenagers a drivers license just because a few teenagers behave irresponsibly. The great majority of bikers are sensitive to environmental issues, that is why we are out on the trail!

Sincerely
J. & B. Milroy

To get your new set of stickers for your mountain bike and your car send $1.00 and a SASE (self addressed stamped envelope) to cover the cost of printing and mailing the new stickers to MMBA, P.O. Box 29 Belmont, MI 49306. When you renew your 1996 membership you'll be sent the new stickers with membership packet.

WHAT THE MMBA NEEDS TO SERVE YOU BETTER:

1. Each chapter needs a member to print and mail a postcard once a month to local members, listing Chapter related MMBA activities.
2. The MMBA needs people to attend MMBA Points Series Races to sign up members, take questions and forward them to appropriate MMBA officers, and to talk about what the MMBA does and has done.
3. In the summer not a month and in some cases, not a week goes by where there is not an MMBA trail maintenance activity going on somewhere in our state. Call the numbers above and get involved. Your riding depends on it!
